CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Experts from Qatar Exchange made visits to several schools and colleges where they gave lectures and training courses to promote investment awareness among students and encourage them to invest in QE's market.

Qatar Exchange continued during the year 2012 its tireless efforts to achieve ambitious goals and reach an advanced level among the region's and the world's markets despite the turbulences and unrests witnessed in many parts of the world and the Arab region. In the past year, QE has achieved many successes on the technical, disclosure, regulatory and product diversification sides, along with organizing awareness campaigns to promote investment culture in the State of Qatar.

It is a pleasure to present this small contribution in QE's Annual Report for the past year 2012, in which we celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of the launch of Doha Securities Market, which was renamed later to become Qatar Exchange.

QE has seen an impressive development and is now a well-established national institution providing many investment opportunities for local and international investors as it is a link between large companies and even family enterprises, seeking to take advantage of the listing benefits, and between institutional and individual investors who are aware that the stock market is saving and investment at the same time.

Over the past year, QE has continued the execution of its strategic plan aiming at introducing necessary changes on its infrastructure to transform QE from a local and regional exchange into a world class exchange. QE persisted in its efforts to be in line with the largest and most advanced exchanges in the world through developing a legislative framework to enhance transparency and provide different investors with diversified investment tools. With this in mind, QE obtained regulatory approvals on introducing new investment instruments in the market, such as ETFs and REITs, and licensing new trading mechanisms, such as liquidity provision, securities lending and borrowing, and margin trading activities, to facilitate the investment process.

Local investors have always been our focus as we aim to increase their knowledge of new investment products. Therefore, QE continued holding educational campaigns and awareness sessions in cooperation with specialized educational and training institutions such as Qatar Finance and Business Academy and the Faculty of Islamic Studies. In addition to that, experts from QE made visits to several schools and colleges where they gave lectures and training courses to promote investment awareness among students and encourage them to invest in QE's market.

Despite the decline that has occurred in the trading volume and the drop in the index value of 4.8% in the past year as a result of the instability witnessed in many parts of the world, we are confident that the coming period will mitigate this decline as a result of the tireless efforts undertaken by QE, the outstanding performance of listed companies and the enormous investments in the Qatari economy because QE is a mirror and a reflection of the success of the national economy.

This success is supported by government initiatives and the issuance of a number of laws and regulations, which enhanced the development process and made the Qatari economy one of the highest-growing economies in the world. This government policy is supported by the expansion of government spending and high rates of profitability of the companies listed on QE.

The credit for all the achievements goes to the wise vision and the spirit of determination of our government, inspired by the prudent directives of His Highness the Emir Sheikh Hamad Bin Khalifa Al Thani, and HH the Heir Apparent Sheikh Tamim Bin Hamad Bin Khalifa Al Thani.

Dr. Hussain Ali Al Abdulla
Acting Chairman of
QE Board of Directors

CEO'S MESSAGE

Ambition does not stop at any certain level and thoughts of advancement and improvement are always a concern for any successful institution that endeavors to stay in the lead.

Despite the repercussions of the imbalances that the world and the Arab region witnessed last year, Qatar Exchange (QE) moved closer to complete phase 1 of its strategy working towards cash market reforms and succeeded to attain new accomplishments on the legislative and technical levels, in the domains of disclosure, information dissemination, raising awareness, and spreading the culture of investment.

In line with global equity markets, 2012 was not an easy year for the Qatari market.

After two years in which QE was the best performing market in the region, in 2012 the QE 20 Index decreased by 4.8%. This decrease can be put into perspective when the QE Total Return Index is taken into consideration. In April 2012, QE launched a range of new indices, designed to provide investors better tools to follow the markets performance. The QE Total Return Index, which includes dividends re-invested in the portfolio in the index performance, takes into account the high dividend yield of the market. During 2012, the Total Return Index increased by 1.4%. The wider market measure, the All Share Index, showed an even better performance, up 4.6%, confirming the strength of the Qatari economy.

When one considers the new sector indices, which are based on international sector classification standards, the Consumer Goods Index was the out-performer with an increase of 38%.

Early 2012, QE organized the launch event for the Qatar Exchange Venture Market, a new market dedicated to SMEs. The launch event was targeted at market professionals, such as accountants, consultants, banks and brokers, in order to create awareness of the rules and regulations of this new market. With their support, going forward one would expect to see the first companies listed on the market. The dedicated SME market is positioned to be an important financing mechanism for SMEs and thus to contribute to the realization of the Vision 2030.

In our strive to further enhance the quality of the market, QE implemented additional features to the DVP process of which the first phase was launched in 2011. Also, two new custodians were licensed during 2012, Standard Chartered and QNB providing additional choice to the local and international investors in accessing the market.

We also saw the completion of the regulatory process for Direct Market Access, a facility that will facilitate easier and fully anonymous access to the Qatari Market for institutional customers.

The initiative to enhance the use of investors' bank accounts in the dividend payment process saw the first results in the dividend period of 2012. Thousands of investors have already updated their account information with QE and were thus able to receive their dividend smoothly and safely through their bank account.

Ambition does not stop at any certain level and thoughts of advancement and improvement are always a concern for any successful institution that endeavors to stay in the lead. There still remains a number of aspirations and projects on QE's agenda for 2013, which will be finalized in the near future. During 2013, QE will seek to be a regional exchange, facilitate companies & government to raise capital, and support the financial sector in Qatar through product diversification and offering investors efficient platforms for asset allocation.

Moreover, in 2012 QE adopted a comprehensive strategy for education and awareness designed to spread the culture of investment in the Qatari society. The implementation of this strategy commenced in 2012 with an extensive campaign, and we hope it will accomplish the aspired benefit to all investors.

The past years were full with major milestones. We are looking forward to achieve more in the future. Work results in further work; achievement calls for further achievement. We are fully inspired and hopeful to carry our delivery further with perseverance and persistence.

Mr. Rashid Bin Ali Al-Mansoori
